

Born in Rotterdam in the 1 year of the war and educated at boarding schools by both Dominican and Carmelite orders in Amersfoort and Hengelo final years at the H.P.T.S part of the Erasmus Faculty in hull stress engineering and propulsion, later 3,5 years conscripted military service at the regional conflict in Dutch Protectorate of New Guinea, later worked for an oil major in supply, storage, and distribution. Followed in an operational position within Europe UK and the Middle East with both a Northern European Ship Owner and local state Port operator.