

SCRIBBLINGS

From Bill Miller

Mar 2022

Sun Mar 27th Brooklyn/Secaucus: Bags packed and farewell! Under the Verrazano before daylight, berthed by 6 and off & then home quickly. All very smooth & easy, and goodbye Queen Mary 2. A wonderful voyage, 19 days in all, complete.

Back at sea! The full P&O Cruises fleet returned to service today when the Arcadia sailed from Southampton to the Canary Islands. Cunard's Queen Victoria returns to service in June, completing resumption by the Cunard fleet. And word is that the new Queen Anne will cruise from Southampton, beginning in Dec 2023. In '24, the Queen Mary 2 will continue with her seasonal crossings coupled with cruises; the Queen Victoria will spend lots of time in the Med; and while the Queen Elizabeth will be mainly in the Pacific – Australia, Far East & Alaska.

Mon Mar 28th Home in Secaucus: Yesterday was a rather busy day in NY harbor in this pandemic era – three big passenger liners were in port today, offloading some 5,000 passengers combined. The Queen Mary 2 was in Brooklyn, the Anthem of the Seas in Bayonne and the Norwegian Getaway in Manhattan.

Capt Justin Zizes caught the soaring Norwegian Getaway departing on Sunday afternoon ...
